

Principal results against the paper (different data sets: the values are not expected to coincide)

